

First Step

training course on increasing cooperation among youth, social and public sector based on Enter! Recommendation in order to support young people from disadvantaged neighbourhoods entering at labour market

17-23 September 2019, Levelek , Hungary

Themes of the training course:

The project is aiming at the development of youth policy and youth work responses to situations of exclusion, discrimination and violence affecting young people, particularly in multicultural disadvantaged neighbourhoods. The project promotes young people's access to social rights as a means for their inclusion and participation in society. The Enter! project mainly responds to multilevel social and economic imbalances, which hinder young people to access their social rights. The Committee of Ministers of the Council of Europe adopted the Enter! Recommendation on access of young people from disadvantaged neighbourhoods to social rights in 2015. The Recommendation proposes the development of policies taking into consideration the specific situations and needs of young people from disadvantaged neighbourhoods. Such policies should aim at preventing and eradicating the poverty, discrimination, violence and exclusion faced by young people. In the Enter! Recommendation the Committee of Ministers „recommends that authorities responsible for youth in the member States ensure that this recommendation, including its appendix, is translated and disseminated as widely as possible, in particular among young people using youth-friendly means of communication”. The implementation of the Enter! Recommendation is specifically supported by a youth-friendly version of the recommendation, a guide for the implementation of the recommendation – Taking it Seriously, and Dignityland, a game for learning about social rights with young people. Under the Enter! project training course for youth workers and other stakeholders such as local municipalities and social institutions working on youth policies on how to promote social rights for young people will be organised.

The overall aim of the training course is aimed to develop the youth workers, youth leaders' skills and competences to support young people's access to social rights through implementing the Enter! Recommendation in their local realities and international level. More specifically, the course explored ways to prevent early school leaving and support young people's access to employment through local and international youth projects according to the proposals of Erasmus+ programme and European Youth Foundation.

Learning objectives of the training course are:

- To develop the participants' knowledge about the Enter! Recommendation and to reflect how to apply them in their local contexts;
- To explore, analyse and reflect on ways to implement the Enter! Recommendation especially in promoting access to employment and preventing early school leaving among young people;
- To contribute improving dialogue and cooperation among youth workers, youth leaders and youth policy makers for new initiatives that sustains and strengthens the usage of Enter! Recommendation at local and international level;
- To invent local and international youth projects based on the Enter! Recommendations in order to support employability and preventing early school leaving of young people according to the proposals of Erasmus+ programme and European Youth Foundation.

The methodology of the training course:

The project will be based on non-formal educational methodology. It will be learner centred and participatory. It will be really practical, that means participants will put their gained competences into practice already during the project and the training course itself. Experienced trainers' team will prepare the programme flow based on the needs and expectations of the partner organisations and their participants. The training contributes to the development of organizational and communicational skills of each group member in a specific group work environment. Group members will experience process of democratic principles such as dialogue, mutual understanding, giving constructive feedback, decision making, self-exploration, attitude of analytical approach. After completion of this training, participants will contribute to the development of their local community through direct impact on youth in their work.
